Tokyo, January 26, 2022 - COACH A announced today that the newest version of DCD (Driving Corporate Dynamism), a platform that accelerates dialogic organizational development through leader development, is now also available in English. Following the launch of the renewed service in Japanese in February 2021, this English launch made it possible for the company to provide the renewed DCD services in all five languages, Japanese, Chinese (Mandarin and Cantonese), Thai, and English.

COACH A's Global Expansion

COACH A has been supporting global leaders for more than a decade. Outside of Japan, it established offices in the United States and China in 2010, followed by Hong Kong in 2012 and Thailand in 2013. With this global expansion, COACH A has been offering services in five languages — Japanese, Chinese (Mandarin and Cantonese), Thai and English. Multilingual services are provided by the company's multilingual coaches as well as contracted coaches overseas.

With the launch of the renewed DCD in English, COACH A will further increase the impact it creates through dialogic organizational development for its clients in North America, Europe, Asia and other countries where English is the primary language.
